What's So Special About the Amway Opportunity?

Part Third (Support, Motivation and Recognition)

In his best-selling book, Compassionate Capitalism, Amway co-founder Rich DeVos encourages everyone to be a mentor and to help other people reach their goals.

That's not only a good philosophy, it's also the third distinguishing factor behind the Amway Opportunity. In the first two editorials of this four-part series, we covered (1) the Infrastructure that supports you and your business and (2) an overview of our Equity-based compensation plan. Now we present the third unique factor of the Amway Opportunity: Support, Motivation and Recognition.

The relationship between ABOs, their Lines of Sponsorship (LOS), and the organization is absolutely paramount. We work together. Your success is our success....everyone's success.

When you have large groups of people who are each focused on helping another person, that's how you really know something special is going on.

That "help" comes from many different directions. Business people support their fellow ABOs and provide them with motivation and encouragement to get them closer to their goals. And Amway supports its ABOs with help and expert advice from all corners of the Corporation.

Consider all the ways that Support, Motivation and Recognition become standard practice for ABOs, Amway employees, and everyone associated with the Amway business. New ABOs can count on their newfound LOS organization, their country's Amway affiliate AND the global corporation to help them learn and earn their way to higher levels in the business.

- Partnership. The corporation, its employees, and ABOs around the world are unified in their dedication to help each and every new business person reach their goals and realize their full potential.
- Founders Fundamentals. The principles upon which this business was built – Freedom, Family, Hope, and Reward – are honoured and espoused by everyone associated with the business..
- In business for yourself, not by yourself. You set your goals; you determine how and when to achieve them; you are your boss. But you will never feel isolated when you have an entire global corporation and business community backing you up.
- Education and Training. Our objective is to provide the best, focused training to fit your needs and the goals you have for your business. Both your upline and the Corporation are interested in helping you reach your potential.
- Support. Business assistance for ordering and shipping ease, as well as accounting and products support services are available 24 hours a day, every day, via web sites and call centers. Our goal is to not only enhance your understanding of the products your business has to offer, but also to provide you with a stronger understanding of the sales plan which compensates you for building your business.
- Motivation. The psychological and sociological aspects of owning your own business can often be overwhelming. That's where your Line of Sponsorship comes in. They've been there and they know how to help you overcome obstacles and solve the problems that challenge you.
- Recognition. Amway rewards every business owner with bonuses based on the volume of sales made by them and the people they sponsor. As your sales increase, so do your bonuses. Rewards can be strictly monetary or can be integrated into business trips that recognize your position as a sales leader.
- The People, the Plan, the Products. From the Sales Plan written by Rich and Jay to the products produced under strict quality standards, to the people who are dedicated to your success, nothing would work without the interactive nature of this business.

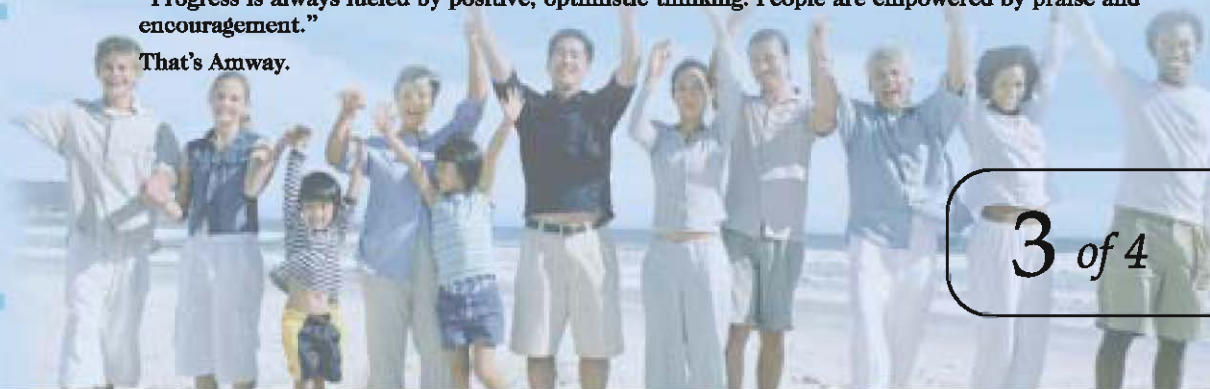

The next time someone asks you about Amway, tell them about the "People Part" of our business ... and give them another quote from Rich DeVos that explains why this "People Business" works so well.

"Progress is always fueled by positive, optimistic thinking. People are empowered by praise and encouragement."

That's Amway.

Yet another powerful demo of APSA-80™

Mohali outfield sprayed

Mohali, October 25

THE INTERNATIONAL Cricket Council used a chemical spray to reduce the impact of dew on Wednesday's match between Pakistan and New Zealand, saying it was in the interests of a fair contest.

The dew makes the pitch fresh and the bowlers face problems in gripping the ball that gets damp after rolling over a moist outfield.

The chemical APSA-80, commonly used in agriculture was sprayed on the outfield at Mohali.

Hindustan Times

Kings down with .....

Jaldeep Marar | TNN

Ahmedabad: .....

Meanwhile, the chemical spray (APSA-80) to counter the dew is likely to be used during the India - West Indies match, it the curator Dhiraj Parsana is to be believed.

"I have not yet got confirmation from the local association to use it," he said.

"But we have been allowed to use the Super Sopper on the outfield during the two drinks break in the second innings," he added.

Chemical on the grass?

SOMETIMES you can try and go against the natural order of things and still fail. But yesterday the Punjab Cricket Association tried their best to keep the conditions dry as possible after sunset. And thanks to their efforts, the dew factor wasn't as big a factor after all.

The PCA sprayed a chemical called APSA-80 over the grass to reduce the effect of the dew on the ball. The effect was seen in the way the Kiwi bowlers and fielders operated in the latter half of the day. Daniel Vettori's accuracy and Nathan Astle's catch to get rid to Shoaib Malik was testimony of that.

MID-DAY
Oct, 26-2006

ICC weapon against dew

APSA-80 is the ICC's weapon against the dew menace. The chemical is used in agriculture as it reduces the surface tension of water, making the water droplets less clingy and improving the absorption capacity of the soil. Naturally enough, the mention of anything remotely chemical does get the antenna up and news hacks were seen scurrying around trying to figure out any possible side-effects of the agent that the ICC believes will reduce the importance of the toss in these day-night games. It turns out that APSA-80 is sprayed on a variety of food crops across the world and is presumed to be totally safe. For the record, trials of the stuff have taken place in South Africa at both domestic and international levels since 1999. India too played a match in October 2001 against the Proteas that had seen APSA-80's use. Of course, the verdict of as to whether it actually works under Indian conditions will come from the Kiwis alone who fielded second.

ICC move to reduce dew

■ Calcutta: A chemical is set to be used in Mohali on Wednesday in an attempt to reduce the amount of dew that forms on the outfield during day-night matches, says A Staff Reporter. APSA-80, used in farming industry, will be sprayed on the outfield ahead of the match between New Zealand and Pakistan, according to an ICC press release. The chemical is not expected to eradicate dew completely, but it is hoped it will reduce it significantly. ICC Manager — Cricket Dave Richardson, ICC manager (cricket) said: "Dew and the effect it has on day-night cricket has been something that everyone is conscious of. And although it has not played a major role in the ICC Champions Trophy so far we are keen that should remain the case for the rest of the tournament and that every match should be a fair contest between bat and ball."

Jim & Nancy Dornan

Authorised Representatives of Ambassador Network Marketing India Pvt. Ltd.

Mumbai | DOJ: 05/03/1998

With hard earned college degrees in hand from a top American University, Jim and Nancy Dornan were surprised to discover that they had equipped themselves for a life they didn't want. Rather than bury their dreams, they began building an Amway business. They succeeded handsomely in their business goals. And now they have moved on, beyond success, to significance, changing lives and serving as activists and advocates for causes they believe in.

As new Executive Diamonds in India, the Dornans can look back on a long journey leading up to this latest accomplishments. They began their Amway adventure in 1970 when they were both in their early 20's and fresh from the university. Jim, as an Aeronautical Engineer, and Nancy in speech therapy. Disappointed in the level of freedom and economic opportunity, they saw in their careers, and frustrated by the lack of time together, they were open to business when presented. It was a slow start with nearly all of their family and friends saying no, but they managed to become Platinum in their second year and realized they loved being "in business for themselves".

Their daughter Heather was only 2 years old when they decided to make this their full time business and they have not regretted that decision even after more than 30 years. The next chapter in their lives began with the birth of their second child, Eric, who was born with a severe birth defect, requiring more than 11 brain surgeries in his first year of life. This was obviously a big challenge for the young couple and they needed to take some big decisions. Would Eric be a reason to "quit" or to "build"? Jim and Nancy wanted the best options for their family and needed a lot of money for the care Eric would require. He had more than 30 brain surgeries over the next few years and a spinal fusion, and other health challenges. The hospital and doctor bills were huge and the on-going expenses nearly overwhelming. But the Dornans used this inspiration to put even more efforts into their new business. Over the next 5 years they went from Platinum to Crown... and the financial problems were over.

At the same time they were blessed with a third child, David, who was born the same month they became Crown. That was 26 years ago and now the Dornan children are building their own Amway businesses. Jim and Nancy are currently Founders Crown Ambassador (with a 40 FAA achievement award as well) in their home market of North America. Also they are Executive Diamonds in their India business. They say they are still looking to take the family business to far greater heights and they have great belief in the future of Amway India.

Through their educational company, Network 21, Jim and Nancy have structured a global support system to train and encourage their large organization. They have offices in more than 20 different countries and operate in an equal number of separate languages. Jim says, "we have learnt from our mistakes and now we want others to learn from our experience. Our leaders around the world are reaching the Diamond level far faster than we did."

Now the Dornans have also made a serious commitment to inspire their team to "give back" from their abundance. Through a charitable partnership with one of the world's biggest organizations, Network 21 people have started a project called Network of Caring that asks individual ABOs to sponsor children in Africa, Europe and Asia who are in desperate need. They may have been orphaned by AIDS, or just living in poverty and neglect. Over 50,000 children have been supported, and N.O.C have led a team of caring people to build and pay for a school and orphanage near Mumbai, India, called the Ambassador High School. It now has 700 full time students and will soon house 200 former street children from the poorest part of India.

One of Jim's favourite quote is: "we don't use people to build this business...we use this business to build people". Some people need opportunity and a chance to see what they have become..."we can show them that", says Jim. Others just need some food or medicine or a place to live, "we can offer that too, out of our abundance". Jim and Nancy say that "success is simply adding value to yourself, but significance is adding value to others!"

"We are proud of our Amway family in India". We have worked hard and made many trips to this beautiful company and we believe in our leaders as well as the great products and plan of Amway. People all around the world want the same things... freedom, respect, security, love. Through this wonderful business, we can give them a chance. If there is a dream and a willingness to work and learn... it is possible. "We are grateful that we have been given the chance, and we pray that more and more people will follow our path to their own dreams".

The best is yet to come.

Staffan Ohlson

Authorized Representative of Tiara Agencies Pvt. Ltd.

Everyone has dreams but few fight hard to achieve them

Staffan, a self-made man, was born and brought up in a tranquil city of Sweden. He cherishes his childhood memories when his doctor father, teacher mother and two siblings used to spend quality time together. He is from a typical middle class but happy and closed knit family. He went to London for further studies and thereafter landed in Russia for starting a trading business. The first couple of years were a struggle, but gradually things improved.

Nothing is achieved before it is thoroughly attempted

There is always another side of the coin. His traditional business looked good on the outside, but he never saw any upswing in his personal income which made him to look for other options. His quest for a better option came to the climax when he was introduced to the Amway business in Australia. He was initially very skeptical, and after six months he finally joined Amway. Soon, he built his business to platinum level in Australia. His business group included many Indians who were initially very thrilled about the launch of the business in India but none of his group members ended up shifting to India. Staffan packed his luggage and moved to India. From this experience he learned 'not to depend on others for your success'. Mumbai appeared strange to him where he had only two contacts whom he never met before. Only one of them responded positively. The reason - he thinks - why people are reluctant to join this magnificent business is their own fear of failure.

'Failure is a condition for success'

At first, fast growth of other people in the Amway business and negative reactions of people made him feel like a failure, but his belief in himself and his ability and strong determination kept him going. He soon realized that a person who doesn't understand that failing is a part of success would never succeed in life. He looks back at the hard times when he used to travel by local trains and rickshaws for reaching out to people with the business plan. He is grateful that he has seen those hard times which helped him to build his character and persistence.

'I always knew that things will change and things actually changed'

His dreams and willingness to work hard gave him strength to carry on despite being an outsider in the country where people speak diverse languages. He had to be very creative for building business. He handed over cassettes / tapes to people while traveling in train, convinced people over the phone to attend meetings in other states of the country. His fighting spirit made him reach to the Emerald level.

He bought a car as soon as he reached this level. This business gave him a lot of time for doing other things along with handsome income. He travels abroad whenever & wherever he wishes to and is developing other areas of interest as well. He adores the incredible feeling of freedom and the feeling of reaching the diamond level.

Neelam & Naresh Bhardwaj

Authorised Representatives of M & N Marketing Pvt. Ltd.

New Delhi | DOJ: 18/03/1998

We both were born in Punjab, and are currently residing in USA. I did my B.E. Degree in Mechanical Engineering from India, M.E. from England and MBA from USA. I am currently working as a Senior Executive for a Multi-billion Dollar company. My wife, Neelam did her BS and MBA from USA. She is a Chief Executive Officer in a Multi-million Dollar Hospital. During our vacations, we built this business in India with the people we did not know before. Thus, we have a much bigger family in India than we ever dreamt and we are enjoying our relationship with our Amway family members.

We were introduced to this opportunity in USA just before it was launched in India. This was through a phone call that we received from the hospital's Vice President who knew Neelam, my wife from her association in professional societies. Neelam liked the idea of achieving financial security, freedom of time and stress free life that was impossible in high profile corporate jobs. However, I was not convinced if this is what we wanted to do and could achieve financial freedom. However, the benefits of this business had already impressed Neelam. She was seeing something special in this business that I was unable to visualize. We decided to join and get started. Initially, Neelam worked alone with the help of our up-line in USA. Seeing her persistence and commitment, and after meeting successful people, I started making small contributions from my side too.

We were genuinely excited when the business was launched in India. Our parents have been living with us in USA for many years. All our brothers and sisters are settled in USA. While building this business, we faced lots of personal challenges including taking care of my father, who was bed ridden for two years and expired recently; losing Neelam's father and her brother recently at a very young age; taking care of her brother's family and raising our own children. We have two children, Manu and Neha. Manu just finished his Doctorate in Law and is currently working with a senior judge in South Carolina. Neha is pursuing her M.D. from Chicago.

However, the stress, long working hours and politics at the executive positions motivate us to continue building this business to Diamond level and beyond. It offers financial freedom as well as freedom of time so that we can enjoy a peaceful life and have more choices in life. We couldn't have been happier than this because today we are jointly following our dreams both in our personal as well as professional life unlike before, when we had to work separately.

This business has helped us and our family to travel in India and abroad. Helping others to fulfill their dreams in life is very satisfactory. Neelam is looking forward to leave her job and start building the Amway business even more seriously. Now, she enjoys spending her time on her hobbies, music and painting. We look forward to traveling and spending some quality time together.

Amway business is a fantastic opportunity, ideally suited to India and all hardworking, sincere Indians!

When we first came across this business, I thought that it is too good to be true. I realized that the only way to find if it really works is by practical evaluation. The investment to start with is quite low and there is no risk involved. So getting started was a common sense.

My wife, Deepika, was not in its favor initially because she felt that adding on to one more business would mean that I will have no time for her and our son. But when she saw the consistent income coming, she too realized the value of the Amway Business. Today, the business has given us financial security and time for ourselves.

We feel secure and stress-free about our future. We have been able to give our 17 year old son, Soumil, an option to choose his career. This opportunity has given us a chance to redesign our lives and we are grateful to Amway and our entire team for that. Our success has been a result of consistent work as per the training program, without analyzing short-term results!!

We are blessed with a son, Manthan. His big dreams are a great motivational force for us.

Our business was doing well, although there were some problems. The feeling of financial security was not there. This was the time when we came across the Amway Business Opportunity. Hence, we joined immediately as it involved low investments. I was open-minded and willing to learn and move ahead.

We have achieved financial security, travelled to many beautiful locations overseas and are today living a life of significance, most importantly leading a stress-free life. We strongly feel that joy, happiness, peace, prosperity and good health can be achieved through this opportunity.

We attribute our success to our wonderful line of sponsorship, our mentors, who showed us the way.

I am a home maker and my husband is a manager in a Steel Plant. We are blessed with two wonderful kids, Dinesh & Vamsi.

We started this business just to make an extra income as we always faced financial challenges due to our joint family. First few months were very tough. We, being big dreamers, did not find any other option other than this great "Amway Business Opportunity" to fulfill our dreams. We always dreamt of giving the best of lifestyles to all our family members, doing charity in a big way and constructing a hospital at our village. Our success has been possible only with the help of our up-lines, great teammates and family members.

The most interesting thing in Amway is their vision. "Help others to help themselves". If we really want to help others, we need not give them a fish, instead should teach them how to catch a fish.

Amway is the only opportunity which helps the common man to realize their dreams and achieve extra-ordinary goals.

The Amway business has proved to be the best option for our family due to low investment and low risks, financial security, recognition and international exposures too. We are very much thankful to our sponsors who introduced us to this unique business and helped us grow in the business.

This opportunity also helped us to re-educate ourselves by learning the fundamental principles of success and redefining it. We want to be role models for the next generation and teach them how to achieve success in this business at a global level. The Amway Business is unique and offers equal opportunity to everyone.

EAT YOUR WAY TO GOOD HEALTH

NUTRILITE™ PROTEIN POWDER

The Power of Protein

Protein is one of the most important components in the human body and is needed daily. Human muscle (excluding water) is over 80% protein, but the body cannot store protein easily, and furthermore under stress, the body can turn to muscle protein as a source of energy.

Nutriline Protein Powder that contains the high quality protein i.e. soy protein offers the exclusive health benefits along with naturally occurring Phytonutrient called Soy Isoflavones.

Each 10gms of Nutrilite Protein Powder gives you 8 gms of protein. The soy protein isolate in Nutrilite Protein Powder is processed with a water wash (rather than an alcohol wash) which maintains the integrity of the naturally occurring isoflavones and other bioactive components. Soy protein isolate in Nutrilite Protein Powder is 90% protein as compared to soy protein concentrate which is only 70% protein.

Therefore ensure that you include Nutrilite Protein Powder in your daily diet so as to maintain good health.

Essential supplements for a Healthy Heart...

In today's fast paced life style there is little time for nutritionally balanced meals and physical activity leading to deterioration in health, especially heart health. WHO data also states that Indians are 3 times more prone to heart disorders with 50% of the heart disorder occurring in people below 45 years. And if the trend continues, 60% of world's cardiac patients will be Indians by 2010. Nutrilite helps you support a healthy heart by providing complementing supplements which are good for heart.

A Foundation Supplement

NUTRILITE™ SALMON OMEGA-3

Shankar Narayan, AVPO East, accepts the rolling shield for Best Regional AOF Committee, from Chairman AOF, Mr Bill Pinckney, while other members of the committee look on.

As Children's Day fell in this period, we did some work across the country for children at various Homes and Institutions. The Jaipur local implementation committee set up a beautiful recreation room in a state-run home for children. This included donating a home-theatre system, an air conditioner as well as doing up the room, which has since named the 'AOF Recreation Centre'. Srinagar, too, made a significant donation to a state-run institution, and their vocational training center stands significantly strengthened. At Bhopal, Project Muskaan took off with timely donations to our partner – Mattru Chaya, where abandoned babies are looked after. Similar stories replicated themselves at Lucknow, Dehradun, Gorakhpur, Bhatinda, Ranchi, Bhubaneshwar, Ahmedabad, Pune and Raipur. We salute all involved!

With the festive season lighting up homes and hearth across the country, could AOF be far behind in joining the action? Not a chance, and AOF volunteers were in the thick of it. During the Puja, donations were made to orphanages in Siliguri and Kolkata.

A fund-raiser musical night at Hyderabad brought out the best in all AOF volunteers. But a last-minute downpour rendered the outdoor venue useless. Volunteers found an alternative location, informed all the invitees concerned and transferred all the equipments to the new venue. Hats off to the ABOs of Andhra Pradesh, and Hyderabad, in particular. Lucknow volunteers enjoyed a movie-fund raiser and we look forward to their being able to set up something useful at the earliest.

Blood donation camps were held in Behrampur, Ludhiana, Raygada and Aska. White cane day was also celebrated at numerous locations this year. Along with our NGO partners, AOF ensured that 1600 blind children received white canes.

Diamond Invitational 2007

This year's prestigious Diamond Invitational 2007 was pre-poned from May 2007 and held from October 8 to 13, 2006. The participants got the opportunity to visit Cairo, the city which is often described as the Jewel of the Orient; the city of the Thousand Minarets; the Site of the Great Pyramids of Giza, the only surviving wonder of the seven wonders of ancient world. The melting pot of ancient and modern civilization.

It was an exclusive group of around 25 leaders who experienced this exotic, and one of the most prestigious, Annual Business Seminars for our VVIP Leaders of Amway India. During this 5 nights 6 days trip, the top Leadership got ample of quality time to discuss the future plans of Amway India Enterprises for the next year with the Senior Management.

Meanwhile, they also squeezed in some time to visit the eighth wonder of the ancient world...The Great Pyramids of Giza, the Egyptian Museum in Cairo. The sound & light show at the pyramids followed by Dinner at Mina House was greatly appreciated by all the participants. On the night of 9th October, the group had a chance to enjoy the exotic Arabian cuisine whilst cruising on-board, "The Pharaohs", on the Nile, one of the longest rivers of the world. The Farewell Dinner was something that all the participants would cherish for a long time, wherein the entire ballroom of the hotel was converted into a beautiful tent with an Arabian ambience right from the decor to the cuisine.

All in all, the participants had a great business trip with lots of memories to cherish for times to come.

Leaders who qualified for the Diamond Invitational trip but did not attend-
