THE WELLNESS ADVANTAGE

BUILD YOUR BUSINESS ON THE STRENGTH OF THE GROWING WELLNESS INDUSTRY WITH NUTRIWAY®.

You have a great opportunity to take advantage of the growing wellness industry – both in a health sense and through your business. But what is wellness? According to Professor Marc Cohen, President of the Australasian Integrative Medicine Association and Professor of the Complementary Medicine School of Health Sciences at RMIT University, “Wellness is not a product that you can buy or sell. Ultimately, wellness is the state of being where your inner and outer worlds are in harmony. Wellness is therefore the best form of preventative medicine and offers the ability to look, feel, perform and stay well.”

“People are realising that there is more to life,” says Dr Cohen. “People don’t want to get old and sick and decrepit. They want to prevent chronic disease and prevent ageing. They also want to perform better in their lives. Whether it is sport performance, sexual performance, or work, they want to get more from life. And, I think that people are aware that the medical fraternity is good at treating disease, but not necessarily good at improving health, so they have to do it themselves.”

ON THE RISE

If wellness is about a state of being, then the wellness industry includes all the products and services that enhance this state. This includes vitamins and supplements, alternative medicines, health spas, exercise equipment, organic foods, and even cosmetics. A recent study conducted by Swiss wealth manager Julius Baer values the industry at an estimated US$400 billion. With growth expected to continue, the private bank identifies this market as an attractive investment opportunity.

The future of the wellness industry is promising. Global market research company ACNielsen predicts growth in the market, based on the results of research conducted on purchase behaviour. In the last year, sales of products with antioxidants grew by 22 per cent. This showed the highest growth of products with any health claim. Even though the total sales for the year were only half a billion dollars, ACNielsen recommends keeping a close watch on products with antioxidant claims, as continued growth is predicted from this segment.

Another emerging trend is that of customers taking a holistic approach to beauty. Datamonitor reports that women in particular are looking at alternatives to traditional beauty products – for instance supplements, exercise equipment, alternative therapies and cosmetic surgery – to enhance appearance. This trend stems from the concept of wellness and the belief that inner and outer health and beauty are interrelated. A study released by Monash University in 2002 supports the idea that inner health has an effect on outer beauty. It found that people who ate large amounts of vegetables, olive oil, fish, tea, water, nuts and legumes (all foods with high levels of antioxidants) had the least amount of skin wrinkling compared to others.

In Australia, an estimated $2.3 billion is spent every year on alternative therapies and medicines according to a 2002 University of Adelaide study. Consumers Institute reports that in New Zealand, consumers are spending an estimated $145 million a year on supplements alone. Even with these impressive sales figures, there is still scope for tremendous growth in the industry. The reason for this is that it has yet to reach the “tipping point”. This is the point where the industry will transform from being small relative to its potential and will reach epidemic proportions. Knowing that this point is yet to be reached is great news for your health-based business.

THE NUTRIWAY ADVANTAGE

Nutriline, the manufacturers of NUTRIWAY supplements, offers the very best of nature and science to help you and your customers achieve optimal health. Dr Sam Rehnberg, son of Nutrilite founder Carl Rehnberg, continues to build on his father’s legacy as President of the Nutrilite Health Institute. Over 100 scientists at the Nutrilite Health Institute conduct research to uncover new concentrates and innovative formulations, so that NUTRIWAY products can remain ground-breaking leaders in their field. For an update on current research being conducted at the Nutrilite Health Institute, you can visit www.nutriline.com.

The ingredients contained in NUTRIWAY products are farmed from 6,400 acres of Nutrilite-owned organic farmland. Within hours of harvesting, the plants are processed in Nutrilite-owned facilities. This means that Nutrilite has control over the entire process – from farming to packaging.

This world-leading brand, along with the Amway business opportunity, means that you can grow your business as the wellness industry reaches its tipping point. Amway provides fantastic product training, tours, and access to naturopaths.

BARRY PRAGT VICTORIA, AUST.

OCCUPATION – TOURISM MANAGER

AMWAY® is more than just a business for many IBOs, and this is especially true in Barry Pragt's case. In 2005, Barry was diagnosed with cancer. It was during this difficult period in his life that he was overwhelmed by the support he received from his fellow IBOs. The support not only came from his upline and throughline, but from the general IBO community at large.

"Basically how I relate to the business is that I build a community, though it's not necessarily geographically based," says Barry. "Hence, I can choose to live in Melbourne, yet continue to grow my business wherever it takes me. We build relationships with people as we work with each other for mutual benefit."

Barry was able to overcome his health challenges and is now enjoying life as an Emerald. His AMWAY business allowed him to retire from his full-time job 12 months ago and he has been travelling around the world since. Cruising in the Mediterranean, networking in Italy, and exploring Shanghai are just a handful of activities Barry has undertaken since going Emerald. Other than frequently travelling overseas, he divides his time between his home city, Sydney, and Perth (where his three children Zane, Freya and Ella live).

"The business has become not only a lifestyle, but also a social and community network," Barry says. "Occasionally I go for a drive in peak hour traffic just to remind myself of the treadmill that I was on. If I wasn't in the business, I'd still be in corporate. My life would just be so different. In fact, I still pinch myself now because life has changed so much for the better."

"I'm absolutely loving it. I certainly haven't arrived yet, but what I've got so far is the flexibility to control my diary, which gives me the freedom to continue to grow my business without the stress of a job. Each person has a journey in life and in the business. Through the brilliant mentoring I have received, I have learnt to be patient with myself as I grow and to give the IBOs that I work with the same courtesy. It is also very important to have fun along the way!"

HAYSSAM BEJJANI NEW SOUTH WALES, AUST

OCCUPATION – FINANCE SALES

From Lebanon to London and the US to Sydney, Hayssam Bejjani had been on the search for a business that would allow him to lead life on his own terms. Before he started working in finance sales, Hayssam worked in the hospitality industry for years and had seen first hand how his friends lost hundreds of thousands of dollars by starting up new clubs and restaurants. It was a financial risk he wasn't willing to take.

Hayssam (who was born in Lebanon, lived in New Zealand and has travelled all around the world) came to Sydney during the Olympic Games for a five week contract and decided to stay. A year later he started his own AMWAY® business after being introduced to it by a friend.

"I had no doubt that the business worked. I just wasn't sure whether it was going to work for me," says Hayssam. "I guess what kept me in was the fact that I couldn't find anything else that was going to offer me what this could."

"The biggest difference [the business] has made to me personally is that I have been able to multiply my income outside of the business – just through the leadership skills and personal development that I have gone through. I feel a lot more confident. I feel like I can do anything I set my mind to."

KI CHUL CHO AND YOUNG SOOK LEE AUCKLAND, NZ

OCCUPATION – IT BUSINESS OWNERS

Ki Chul Cho and Young Sook Lee were looking for a new business to replace their small IT business which was struggling to compete in the market. The couple had been introduced to the AMWAY business several times previously, both in their home country of Korea and in New Zealand, but were initially not interested. It was in 2003, when they were on the search for a new business, that they realised AMWAY could change their lives.

Despite a negative reaction from people they knew when they first started the business, Ki Chul Cho and Young Sook Lee continued to grow it enthusiastically, all the while knowing that it was the perfect vehicle for them to achieve their dreams and goals. They now have a positive outlook on life and believe that "everything is possible".

"Being immigrants to New Zealand, we know that it is hard to own a big business because English is our second language," says Young Sook Lee. "People with English as their second language will probably have some obstacles with listening and speaking. But, with AMWAY it did not matter and we were able to own a business. We encourage immigrants coming to New Zealand or any other countries to join AMWAY and enjoy their life in their new country."

MO ASHIF RAHIM AND MOMOTAJ BEGUM ACT, AUST.

OCCUPATION – GP/PSYCHIATRIC REGISTRAR

It may come as a surprise that two successful doctors, Dr Mo Ashif Rahim and Dr Momotaj Begum, decided to build an AMWAY® business. Yet, the reason behind the couple's decision was simple: they wanted more time for themselves. Mo and Momotaj were introduced to AMWAY by Mo's brother Ashraf and his wife Selina in the United States. On one of their regular long distance phone calls, Mo was talking to Ashraf about the little time he had for himself working as a doctor, so, Ashraf suggested that he look at the Amway opportunity. He said to Mo, "Think about this business. You will have both money and time."

In the period after joining, the Canberra couple received a lot of support and mentoring from their overseas upline, Palitha and Mala Jayasinghe. Mo attributes their success to their dream for time and money, to make a difference, and to the belief and support of their entire team.

Although Mo and Momotaj both have extremely busy careers, they are committed to using their free time to build the business. Mo says, "The main reason I want to do this business is not only to buy my time back from my busy life, but to help others. I know that through the medical profession I can help others to be healthy. Through this business I can help people to be wealthy."

ABEL SILVA AND ROSHNI AZIZ VICTORIA, AUST.

OCCUPATION – CIVIL ENGINEER/IT MARKETER

Abel Silva and Roshni Aziz are no strangers to the AMWAY business. The couple have been in the business for nine years and qualified as Diamonds in their home country of Malaysia seven years ago. In late 2005, they decided to move their family to Melbourne so that their children could get an Australian education. A few months later, Abel and Roshni were back into AMWAY and building a business here.

"Australia is a different market and yet the same as any other AMWAY market," says Abel. "People here are very approachable, but at the same time overly content. As we all know the country is still in a bit of an economic boom, so getting people to see the benefits of having some viable financial options takes a little more effort."

It is a challenge that the Melbourne couple are dealing with well. It's only been a little over a year since they started their Australian business and they have already reached Platinum. Abel and Roshni are also keen on building a Diamond business here and eventually becoming Crown Ambassadors.

Abel says, "This business has allowed us to live the life we choose for the past nine years: how we spend our holidays, where our kids go to school, and even the country we choose to live in. It just keeps getting better."

Feel like a woman tour

June saw crowds of IBOs laughing and learning at the Feel Like a Woman: Back to Basics Skincare Tour in Australia and New Zealand. The launch of the new ARTISTRY® exclusive skin analysis tools, SEBUTAPE® to measure oiliness of the skin and D-SQUAME® to measure dryness, was an exciting event. There were giveaways galore, special product packs, and engaging speakers that made Feel Like a Woman a memorable tour. David Cheek, Business Relations Manager and the host of the event, presented selected IBOs with gifts of pink diamonds whenever his questions were answered correctly. ARTISTRY Corporate Beauty Trainer Gina Cook tackled hilarious beauty myths from Beryl Starr (a character from the Feel Like a Woman DVD) and presented ways to make basic skincare routines fun and easy.

Everyone who attended received a showbag containing the DVD, a specially designed chart to easily establish skincare needs, a sample TIME DEFIANCE® moisturiser, and a SEBUTAPE and D-SQUAME sample which they learned how to apply on the night. Three gold bags with skincare products, plus a Blackberry Pearl in Australia and a Treo in New Zealand, were given away on each night of the tour. It was an enjoyable time for all involved.

A new prototype bike

Your support is making a difference

THANKS TO THE HELP OF AMWAY® AND AMWAY IBOS, TADNSW IS ABLE TO LAUNCH A NEW PROTOTYPE BIKE. THIS MEANS MORE CUSTOMISED BIKES TO CHILDREN WITH DISABILITIES.

Ramon Ortiz, Technical Aid to the Disabled NSW (TADNSW) Service Development Manager, is excited about the new protocol bikes that his team have been developing over the last six months. Together with Rehabilitation Engineer Keith Olds, Physiotherapist Kristi Harvey-Walker, and volunteers Fred Thompson, Bob Cook and Bruce Hattersley, the group at TAD have created a prototype bike which cuts the assembly time dramatically.

Assembling the old bikes required a well-equipped workshop, welding knowledge and a lot of time. The new prototype bike has simplified the process. Ortiz says, "Once you get the hang of it, the new bikes will probably take no more than a couple of hours to do. And you only need a spanner and then you can do it in the living room, garage – wherever you want."

The new bike designs will even make it easier for the children and their parents to take the bike around. "If you wanted to take the old bike from your home to a park, putting it in your car used to take anywhere from 20 to 30 minutes to disassemble the bike and put it in your boot. Then it would take another half hour to put it back together again.

But now it's just a matter of two pins and two knobs and that's it. The disassembly process will take one minute and the assembly process will be the same."

"The whole exercise of re-engineering the bikes was with a single aim in mind and that was to manufacture more bikes, and deliver more bikes to make it easier for our volunteers to assemble more bikes. It's all about getting more numbers in."

The service van that TADNSW is purchasing will help take the FREEDOM WHEELS program Australia-wide.

"[This goal] is working towards what Amway was saying as well, affecting people's lives, and doing it one by one. It's that sort of thing. The whole engineering exercise was to help us deliver more to a wider audience."

TADNSW is excited about the progress and grateful for the overwhelming support. We have so much more to achieve and we thank you for your ongoing support.

HEALTHY CHOICE

Recreate Michelle's look with ARTISTRY colour cosmetics. See a2k website for details. Her jewellery is from the Be Gorgeous EMMA PAGE collection.

THE NUTRIWAY® TRIM BODY SYSTEM® CAN BE THE KEY TO GETTING YOUR HEALTH BACK ON TRACK. IT HAS BEEN TWO YEARS SINCE MICHELLE WENT ON THE TRIM BODY SYSTEM AND NOW THE 48-YEAR-OLD IS HEALTHIER AND HAS MORE ENERGY THAN EVER BEFORE. SHE WENT FROM A SIZE 22 DRESS DOWN TO A SIZE 12 AND LOST 40 KILOGRAMS IN THE FIRST YEAR. THE BEST PART OF ALL IS THAT HER WEIGHT HAS CONSISTENTLY BEEN IN THE HEALTHY RANGE FOR THE LAST 12 MONTHS.

At 46, IBO Michelle Lloyd Jones felt like she was looking death in the eye. She was overweight, her blood pressure was starting to rise, she suffered from back and neck aches and painful ankle problems. But what was really worrying her was the fact that both her mother and grandmother had had heart conditions and died in their early 60s.

"I was getting to the age where if I didn't do something, the consequences would be staring me very closely in the face," Michelle says. "The long term outlook wasn't looking very promising."

"I was thinking, well, the whole idea of building a Diamond lifestyle is so that you can enjoy it. And, I wanted to be able to enjoy that with my children and my grandchildren. I didn't want my health to be the thing that stopped that happening."

Like many others, Michelle had tried a multitude of diets to lose the fat and none of them worked for very long. So when the NUTRIWAY TRIM BODY SYSTEM was first introduced by AMWAY®, Michelle thought she'd "just give it a go".

LOSING THE WEIGHT

"It surprised me how easy it was," Michelle says of the TRIM BODY SYSTEM. "I didn't get hungry, which was pretty amazing. I'm a bit of a couch potato and even I couldn't talk my way out of doing ten minutes exercise, six days a week. And, I got to eat chocolate every day," Michelle laughs. "I could have chocolate fudge bars and chocolate shakes and smoothies every day."

"The program is really flexible because you've got two ways of doing it right from the beginning. You can do the meal plan or you could do the choices with the pics. You choose when you want to do the exercise, which days of the week, and if you've got a personal medical question that you want some advice on, the NUTRIWAY naturopaths will help you.

"It's a great way to put goal setting into practice. The program is designed for you to set realistic goals and I used ARTISTRY® and EMMA PAGE® as rewards when I achieved my weight loss goals. So I had skincare products and jewellery and I bought a Petite Ring with the five stones in it when I lost five stone. That's just an added extra that you can do for yourself as well."

THE CHANGE

Michelle says, "I didn't realise how much of a difference it would make. Nobody could have told me how much better I would feel and how much more energy I would have. To lose 40 kilos in a year hasn't been the best part, it's been all the additional things that I gained the following year. My blood pressure is well and truly in the average range now and I've reduced those risk factors for cardiovascular disease."

"On the social side of things I've been able to build fitness into my social life. I'm in a beginners' dance class which is a lot of fun and I do an aqua fit class during the summer. These are things that when people would ask me to come to before, I was just too embarrassed... I didn't like the way I looked. And now, it is actually fun."

HEALTH RISKS

When Michelle made the final commitment to lose weight, her body mass index was 37. This put her in the Obese Class 2 category. According to the World Health Organisation, people in the Obese Class 2 category have a severe risk of comorbidities, which is when an individual has one or more diseases associated to a primary disease.

The associated health risks of being overweight or obese are varied. Type 2 diabetes, gall bladder disease, coronary heart disease, and breast cancer are just some diseases that are associated with obesity.<sup>1</sup> According to the National Heart Foundation of New Zealand you also triple the likelihood of having a stroke or a heart attack if you are obese. Additionally, the risk of breathlessness, asthma, depression and psychological problems rises due to increased weight gain.<sup>2</sup>

Over half the number of adults in Australia and New Zealand are overweight or obese<sup>3</sup>, and Australia is now ranked as one of the fattest developed nations behind the United States.

Always read the label. Use only as directed. If symptoms persist see your healthcare professional.

Understanding skin

ARTISTRY LAUNCHES NEW SKIN ANALYSIS TOOLS TO HELP YOU CONFIDENTLY RECOMMEND A SKINCARE SYSTEM TO YOUR CUSTOMERS.

As a business owner, you know how important it is to be familiar with the research behind a product. Knowing the features and benefits of a product inside out helps you to answer any queries and makes you a better sales person. Similarly, it is also helpful to have tools available that support any advice you give. The new skin analysis tools from ARTISTRY are designed to assist you in diagnosing your customer's skin type, giving you more confidence in your business.

WHAT ARE THE TOOLS?

SEBUTAPE: Measures oil flow

D-SQUAME: Measures dryness

HOW DO I USE THEM?

First, you need to ask your customer what time of day their skin begins to shine. If their answer is that it becomes oily immediately, mid morning, or midday, then use Sebutape to do the skin analysis test. If the answer is midday, mid-afternoon or evening/never, then apply the D-Squame. Apply a single patch to an area on the cheek just near the nose. Press the patch against the skin for five seconds. Peel the tape off to reveal the results.

HERE ARE THE DIFFERENT RESULTS THAT MAY APPEAR:

Normal to Oily

- Normal (Low)
- Normal/Oily (Medium)
- Oily (High)

Normal to Dry

- Normal (Normal)
- Normal/Dry (Dry)
- Dry (Very dry)

Now that you have the results of the skin analysis test, you will be able to recommend the skincare system most suitable to your customer's needs. For a more detailed description of the different skincare systems available from ARTISTRY, visit a2k AMWAY online.

ARTISTRY®

SEE THE DIFFERENCE

DETERMINING SKIN TYPE CAN BE EASY ONCE YOU KNOW WHAT CHARACTERISTICS TO LOOK OUT FOR. TO HELP YOU WITH YOUR ARTISTRY® BUSINESS, WE HAVE COMPILED AN EASY TO FOLLOW GUIDE SO THAT YOU CAN DISTINGUISH DIFFERENT SKIN TYPES CONFIDENTLY.

Every skin examination needs to start with the T-zone, which is the area across the forehead and down the centre of the face. The next areas to check are around the cheeks and eyes. Always ensure that you are examining the skin in good lighting and that you are evaluating a clean face.

NORMAL SKIN

Characteristics: Normal skin is characterised by even skin texture and pigmentation. It appears soft and supple and has very few lines and blemishes. This skin type has no oily or dry spots.

Skin needs: Normal skin requires a daily cleansing and moisturising.

ARTISTRY recommendation: ARTISTRY Moisture Rich Daily Skincare System, ARTISTRY Clarifying Daily Skincare System, ARTISTRY TIME DEFIANCE®.

NORMAL TO DRY SKIN

Characteristics: Skin appears dull, dry, and taut. Fine lines and fine pores are also prevalent. Skin is prone to flaking around the forehead, cheek and eye areas. The appearance of fine lines around the mouth are also evident. Mature skin is similar to dry skin, but even drier, thinner, and with more lines.

Skin needs: Normal to dry skin types require non-drying products and increased moisture. Since this skin type is prone to displaying premature signs of ageing, a moisturiser with a sunscreen built into it is recommended in order to prevent further damage. Mature skin should be cared for with an anti-ageing skincare range.

ARTISTRY recommendation: ARTISTRY Moisture Rich Daily Skincare System, ARTISTRY TIME DEFIANCE Cleansing Treatment, Conditioning Toner, Day Crème and Night Crème.

NORMAL TO OILY SKIN

Characteristics: Skin has an oily sheen and enlarged pores around the nose and chin areas. The appearance of blemishes around the T-zone are common. Fine lines around the eyes and mouth are minimal.

Skin needs: Normal to oily skin types require a program to reduce surface oil levels and moisturise certain areas. Supplemental products, like a Pore Cleansing Masque, are recommended for a deep cleanse.

ARTISTRY recommendation: ARTISTRY Clarifying Daily Skincare System, ARTISTRY TIME DEFIANCE Cleansing Treatment, Conditioning Toner, Day Lotion, Night Lotion.

SENSITIVE SKIN

Characteristics: Easily irritated skin that commonly reacts to substances. This causes stinging, itching, redness or blotchiness. Sensitive skin is a condition and not a skin type. People with normal to oily or normal to dry skin can still have sensitive skin.

Skin needs: Skin conditions, such as sensitivity, should always be treated as a primary concern; skin type is a secondary concern. Sensitive skin needs to be soothed and protected with mild products that have been tested for sensitive skin.

ARTISTRY recommendation: ARTISTRY Delicate Care Daily Skincare System.

MORE TIPS FOR DETERMINING SKIN TYPE

ASK AWAY

You will get a better understanding of a person's skin type by asking them questions. Find out when their skin feels oily or dry, what some of their concerns are, and any skin problems they have noticed.

A CLEAN SLATE

The best thing to do would be to remove any makeup before you begin to examine the skin. Wait approximately five to ten minutes before you continue with the analysis so that the skin has settled.

CHANGING SEASONS

Skin type can change with time. Seasonal changes, health and lifestyle changes, and ageing are factors which will affect skin. Keeping this in mind will help you recommend the correct skincare range to your customer. For example, someone with normal skin might use the ARTISTRY Clarifying Daily Skincare System during summer, but change to the ARTISTRY Moisture Rich Daily Skincare System during winter when their skin needs more moisture.

EXTRA SUPPORT

You can verify the conclusion that you have come up with about a person's skin type by using the new ARTISTRY Skin Analysis Tools for the correct skin diagnosis. Simply apply Sebutape down the centre panel or T-Zone of the face to determine oil flow. Apply D-Squame to the cheek area to determine the level of dryness. The results of the test should verify what you have already concluded. You can also order the ARTISTRY Skin Diagnosis Guide, a six-step guide to help you understand different skin types. You can download this helpful reference guide from the a2k website to complete your client's skin diagnosis profile.

PIGMENTATION AND DISCOLOURATION

Characteristics: Uneven skin tone, freckles, and discolouration.

Skin needs: Pigmentation and discolouration is a skin concern and not a skin type, meaning that people with oily or dry skin can still have pigmentation problems. People with this skin condition require specially formulated products which lighten and brighten the skin to reduce the appearance of pigmentation and discolouration.

An excellent way to demonstrate the benefits of the iCook VITALOK™ technology is by showing your customers the benefits first hand. The advanced VITALOK technology ensures that food retains its natural flavours and colours and locks in up to one-third more essential nutrients, vitamins and minerals than conventional cooking. Here is a delicious and straight-forward way of showcasing the iCook difference. Try this Steamed Vegetables recipe, follow these tips at your next iCook demonstration and see the difference it makes to your sales.

Tips for successfully selling and demonstrating iCook.

1. Demonstrate using simple recipes.
2. Rehearse the recipe at home several times to ensure you are comfortable recreating it in front of others.
3. Start small – demonstrate with a few IBOs initially before tackling larger crowds.

4. Ensure the food is fresh, there is no risk of contamination and that you follow food handling hygiene practices.
5. As with cooking shows, it's always a good idea to have a finished dish you have prepared earlier (if it's a cold dish) to show how it will look when finished.
6. Familiarise yourself with the features and benefits of iCook (for example, VITALOK, DURAMIC™, OPTITEMP™) so that you can talk about these easily while demonstrating.
7. Keep the iCook range that you use for demonstrations in the cleanest condition possible. Always wash straight away after demonstrating.
8. Smile and enjoy. Cooking is fun!
